Application to register a name change (adult 18+ years)

Eligibility
To apply to change your name in Victoria:
• you must be 18 years of age or older
• you must be born in Victoria
• if not born in Victoria, you must prove you have been a resident in Victoria for the past year (12 months).

To apply to change your child's name, use the form 'Application to register a name change (child under 18 years).’ This form is available at www.bdm.vic.gov.au or at the Registry.

Unsuccessful applications
Your application may be unsuccessful if:
• you fail to disclose information about the current and previous name/s you have used, especially those used to secure credit
• you have not updated your identity documents from a previous name change
• you are not able to establish your identity
• your new name is sought for fraudulent or improper purposes
• you have financial defaults listed against you
• your new name is considered to be offensive, too long, includes numbers or symbols without phonetic significance, resembles an official title or rank recognised in Australia, or is considered to be against the public interest
• you do not return all original birth certificates or change of name certificates previously issued to you by the Victorian Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages
• your application is incomplete. Ensure you provide the reason for the name change, your identity documents and details of any outstanding financial defaults or criminal offences
• you do not provide requested information within 28 days of request
• the Registrar is not satisfied with the information supplied.

Fees and certificates
A fee of $91.10 must be paid when submitting this form. The fee includes:
• an application fee of $63.30 (non-refundable)
• a standard certificate fee of $27.80.

If your application is successful, you will receive a standard birth certificate which shows the name change, or a change of name certificate (if you were not born in Victoria).
The certificate will be issued in approximately 20 working days, provided your application is complete and you have submitted the required supporting documents. The certificate may be used as proof of your name change for legal and other official purposes.

Priority service fee
An optional priority service is available for a fee of $75.00.
• If your application is complete and approved, your certificate will be issued within five working days, instead of the standard 20 working days.
• Please note, if your application is incomplete or not approved, the priority fee will not be refunded.

Privacy and disclosure of information
The information requested on this form is collected under the provisions of the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1996 and forms the basis of your name change. Information shown on a birth or name change certificate will be based on the information you provide.
The Registrar may only release information about a person for legal and law enforcement purposes, in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Further information about privacy, disclosure of data, the Registry's Access Policy and how to correct a record is available at www.bdm.vic.gov.au

Instructions
• Write clearly and use blue or black ink and BLOCK letters
• Press firmly when writing
• Do not use correction fluid or tape
• Keep each number, letter or X within the boxes, for example:

Recognising significant life events

November 2011
1. I was married in Australia and now use my spouse's surname. Do I need to change my name to prove I have a new surname?
No. You need a standard marriage certificate issued by the Registry of Births Deaths and Marriages in the state or territory where you were married. Please note, the certificate issued on your wedding day is not a commonly accepted identification document.

2. I was married overseas and now use my spouse's surname. Do I need to change my name to prove this?
In most cases, yes. It is best to check with the organisation requesting your identity documents (e.g. Australian Passports, VicRoads etc.) before you apply to change your name or order a certificate.

3. I was born overseas and don’t have an Australian passport. What documents can I use as proof of my place of birth?
You can use one of the following documents:
• current overseas passport (or expired within the last five years)
• overseas birth certificate (if not in English, you must provide a translation by an accredited translator)
• travel document
• Certificate of Evidence of Residence Status (CERS).

Other contacts for assistance:
• Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC) - call 131 880
• Australian Passports - call 131 232.

4. I was born in Australia but not in Victoria, what can I use as proof of my place of birth?
You can use the birth certificate issued by the registry in the state or territory you were born in.

5. I was born outside Victoria, but currently live in Victoria. Can I still apply to change my name?
Yes. However, to change your name you must provide proof that you have been living in Victoria for the past year. Please refer to PART FOUR - Proof of Identity.

6. What type of certificate will I receive if my application is approved?
If you were born in Victoria, you will be issued with an updated standard birth certificate showing the name change, record of your birth name and any previous names. If you were not born in Victoria, you will be issued with a name change certificate.

7. Will any reference be made to my former names on certificates?
All legal name changes since 31 October 1986 are recorded on the birth register and may appear on any standard birth certificate or name change certificate issued after your name change.

8. What is a Deed Poll certificate?
A Deed Poll certificate was used up to 31 October 1986 to undertake a name change. If you have changed your name by Deed Poll in Victoria, you can apply for a certificate from the Registry. Some organisations do not accept Deed Poll certificates and may require you to register a name change.

9. If my application is unsuccessful will I get a refund?
You will be refunded the certificate fee, but not the application fee or priority fee (if applicable).

10. Where can I obtain a copy of my credit history report?
Some of the companies you can obtain your credit history report from include:
• Veda Advantage – call 1300 762 207
• Dun and Bradstreet – call (03) 9828 3333.

11. What do I do after I have changed my name?
You must update all official documents and records to show your new name. This includes your driver licence, passport, bank account, electoral roll details, records with your superannuation and insurance providers and local council.

It is best to check with the authority requesting your identity documents before you apply to register a name change.

Certify your documents

Applying by mail?
You must mail us police-certified photocopies of each identity document.

Applying in person?
You must bring in your original identity documents or police-certified photocopies.

How to certify your identity documents
1. Make a photocopy of each identity document.
2. Take your photocopies and the original documents to a police station and ask a sworn member of police to certify them.
3. Mail us your certified identity documents along with this completed form.

Living in regional Victoria?
You may also certify photocopies of your identity documents at selected Justice Service Centres (JSCs). To find your nearest JSC, visit www.bdm.vic.gov.au/jsc

Applying from Queensland, Western Australia, the Northern Territory or overseas?
If you are applying from Queensland, Western Australia, Northern Territory or overseas, any Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, Commissioner for Oaths or Australian Consulate Officer can certify photocopies of your identity documents.

All applicants please note:
- Do not send original identity documents by mail (except when returning your original Victorian birth and/or change of name certificates).
- All documents must be current (except overseas passports) and show current residential address, where applicable.
- If your lease or tenancy agreement is more than 12 months old you must provide a letter from your real estate agent which confirms you are a tenant at the same address.
- If you supply printed online bank or utility statements they must be stamped and approved by the bank or utility company. The statements must show your name and residential address.
- If your identity documents are not in English, you must attach a translation by an accredited translator.
- Failure to correctly submit your proof of identity documents will delay your application.
- If applying by mail, the Registry recommends you send your documents via Registered Post.

If you are unable to meet these requirements, please contact the Registry via www.bdm.vic.gov.au or on 1300 369 367

Checklist

I am 18 years of age or older.

I have disclosed all current and previous names I have used.

I have supplied all four identity documents in Part 4. If I don’t have photo identification from List 2, I have supplied a passport photo which has been signed by a guarantor.

I have signed the declaration in Part 5 in the presence of a qualified witness.

I have returned to the Registry all original birth or change of name certificates previously issued by the Victorian Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages or any other Australian registry.

If I have been arrested, charged or convicted of any fraud related offence:

I have provided a separate statutory declaration which explains the circumstances.

If I was not born in Victoria:

I currently live in Victoria and have provided evidence that I have been living here for at least one year (12 months).

If applying by mail:

I have had the photocopies of my identity documents certified at a Justice Service Centre or by a sworn member of police.

I have included payment or completed the Credit Card Payment Slip.

After changing your name
Once your name has been changed you must update all official documents and records to show your new name. This includes your driver licence, passport, bank account, electoral roll details, records with your superannuation and insurance providers and local council.

If you require access to a translation or interpreter service, please contact the Translating and Interpreting Service (TIS) on 13 14 50 and ask them to contact the Victorian Registry of Births, Deaths and Marriages.
